Revelation and the Apocalypse in Late Medieval Literature

The Writings of Julian of Norwich and William Langland

Justin M. Byron-Davies

February 2020

In late medieval England, many religious texts were based on older source texts that were collected together and adapted to fit the needs of new, late medieval audiences.

This book argues that devotional compilations written in Middle English are unique additions to late medieval textual and religious culture.

Revisiting the Medieval North of England

Interdisciplinary Approaches

Edited by Anita Auer,
Denis Renevey, Camille Marshall
and Tino Oudesluijs

February 2019

9781786833945 •

£35 • PB

The focus of this volume is the north of England and its regions in the late medieval period.

Concentrating on the north as a centre of manuscript production, dissemination and reception, this volume illustrates the fluidity of boundaries and communication, and the resulting links to different geographical regions.

This is a book about reading and healing. It shows how literature that makes us feel sad, horrified or fearful was understood to bring about health of the soul in the Middle Ages. It considers a specific set of negative emotions and demonstrates precisely how words can evoke strong feelings.
